Product Description

With these Office Depot laminating pouches, you can keep your important A4 size notices or posters in pristine condition, by coating them in a completely clear and durable film complete with a gloss finish. Protect and preserve your documents from weather damage if placed outside, or just from dust and dirt that can be picked up over time.

Each pack comes with 100 A4 size laminating pouches, with 150 microns in thickness preventing your documents from bending and creasing easily. The rounded corners of these laminating sheets is safer to touch, and the low melting temperature adhesive feature of these pouches means using them is easy.

Whether it is laminating for office documents or for your personal memories, these transparent Office Depot's own brand pouches are excellent value for money without compromising on the quality.
